

Happy Valentines Day from FNB!

Love is in the air – and so is your money if you fall for one of these scams!

Every year hundreds of people get involved in romance scams. A criminal will use a fake online identity to gain your affection and your trust. The scammer will then use the illusion of a romance to manipulate the person or steal from them.

Protect Yourself!

- Be careful with what you post online and make public
 - Research the person's profile photo
 - Go slow – ask questions!
- Be aware if the individual seems too perfect or quickly asks you to leave
- Never send money to anyone you have only communicated with online or by phone!
